MCGIRT SENTENCED TO LIFE IN FEDERAL PRISON

MONUMENTAL CASE WHICH LED TO RESERVATION REAFFIRMATION CONCLUDES

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

MUSKOGEE, Oklahoma – A conclusion for the case that strengthened the sovereignty of tribal nations in Oklahoma has been handed down. After more than a year from the initial appeal in federal court, Seminole Nation citizen Jimcy McGirt has received his sentencing of life in prison without possibility of parole on Aug. 25.

McGirt was convicted in state court of rape and sexual assault in 1997 and was sentenced to 500 years. He challenged the case by appealing his conviction in federal court over 20 years later; claiming the state had no jurisdiction due to the fact McGirt was a Native committing his crime on Native lands.

On July 9, 2020 the U.S. Supreme Court ruled in favor of the Treaty of 1866, stating the Muscogee (Creek) Nation Reservation was never disestablished. This set off a chain reaction of cases seeking to be retried in federal and tribal courts and to be relinquished from the state.

McGirt was officially found guilty of two counts of Aggravated Sexual Abuse in Indian Country, and one count of Abusive Sexual Contact in Indian Country in the United States Courts for the Eastern District of Oklahoma in November 2020. The jury trial began with testimony on November 4, 2020. The victim, now in her late 20s, testified against him in court. Court concluded on November 6, 2020 with a conviction of sexually assaulting a 4-year-old child, according to the press release from the Eastern District of OK Attorneys Office.

"The verdict is a result of a courageous victim who for the sake of justice was willing to once again relive the horrific acts the defendant perpetrated against her over 24 years ago. Her strength is a powerful testament to the resilience and strength of the human spirit, and a great example for us all," said United States Attorney Brian J. Kuester said. "Prosecuting decades old cases are difficult at best, but the prosecution team along with the Federal Bureau of Investigation demonstrated tenacity and commitment to the federal government's trust responsibility in Indian Country in the Eastern District of Oklahoma."

The Muscogee (Creek) Nation and other surrounding nations have been affected by the case since the ruling. The Nation replied to the sentencing on Aug. 25 with the following statement:

"Today's federal sentencing of Jimcy McGirt to life in prison with no parole marks justice served in a new era of affirmed tribal sovereignty and jurisdictional clarity. We commend the diligence of the U.S. attorneys in prosecuting this case and the federal judge for preserving justice for the victims of these heinous crimes. The sentencing of Jimcy McGirt to three life sentences with no parole – and the U.S. attorney's actions last year to ensure this man's uninterrupted imprisonment – is a prime example of an orderly process that preserves public safety and delivers justice in the lawful, appropriate venue."

Jimcy McGirt challenged his sentence from the state and was charged in Muskogee Federal Court over a year later. (Submission)

"What is here for all to see today is an affirming reality that flies in the face of a continuing dissonance of chaos and fear-mongering from the State of Oklahoma. This case, along with others, proves that implementation of the U.S. Supreme Court's 2020 ruling in the landmark case that bears McGirt's name is working for all Oklahomans."

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

OKMULGEE, Oklahoma – The application for the COVID Individual Relief Assistance funded through the American Rescue Plan Act was made available Sept. 9, along with the rollout of the new Camphouse Portal. Citizens will have to register on the portal as a user to access the application.

A link will be provided on the Muscogee Nation Facebook page and website that will direct citizens to the online portal, further detailed information is available on the website.

The portal requires an email account to register. If a citizen does not have an email, they can call the ARPA hotline and complete the application by phone.

The citizenship of the portal user will be verified by roll number only. If a citizen has an expired citizenship card, it will not disqualify them from creating a user profile on the portal.

The portal will allow the head of household citizen to add eligible dependents with a roll number on the profile and will include these dependents in the application.

According to a comment made by the Muscogee Nation on the Facebook post announcing the application availability date, if a minor citizen lives with a non-Muscogee parent or guardian, the parent will need to call the hotline to complete the application.

The Office of the Principal Chief has previously stated that Camphouse will continue to serve as a centralized location for citizens to hold personal documents and apply for other services as they are added.

NATIONAL COUNCIL PASSES CITIZEN VACCINE INCENTIVE

MUSKOGEE (CREEK) CITIZENS FULLY VACCINATED BEFORE SEPT. 30 ELIGIBLE TO RECEIVE $500

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

OKMULGEE, Oklahoma – Muscogee (Creek) citizens 12 years and older are eligible to receive a payment of $500, if vaccinated before Sept. 30. Legislation, NCA 21-097, concerning an incentive for vaccinated Muscogee citizens was passed during the Aug. 28 Regular Session of the National Council.

The funds of $40,000,000 will be expended from the American Rescue Plan Act funds received from the U.S. Department of Treasury. The fund amount accounts for approximately 80,000 citizens to receive the funds as stated in the legislation.

A lower amount of $300 will be available to those who are fully vaccinated on or before Dec. 31.

The legislation was introduced during a Health, Education and Welfare meeting and was sponsored by Okmulgee District Representative William Lowe.

Lowe claimed he worked on this legislation since Aug. 16 directly after the Emergency Session that introduced the Tribal Vaccine Incentive.

During a discussion regarding the employee incentive, Lowe introduced the idea of a citizen vaccine incentive.

"Right before I voted I did state that I wanted to make sure our citizens were going to get this very same incentive or similar incentive as our employees," Lowe said. "To pretty much keep stride with the employee incentive, I felt the need for our citizens to have the same incentive for the vaccines."

NCA 21-097 passed in committee with a 4-0 vote and was adopted by Full Council with a 14-0 vote.

Legislation states that employees of the tribe, contract workers of the tribe, College of the Muscogee Nation, Gaming and Health employees are not eligible to receive this incentive.

The administration has not yet released a statement regarding the application process.

COVID UPDATE FROM THE SECRETARY OF HEALTH

SECRETARY OF HEALTH SHAWN TERRY TALKS NUMBERS REGARDING THE CURRENT COVID-19 DELTA VARIANT

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

OKMULGEE, Oklahoma – Muscogee Nation Secretary of Health Shawn Terry paid a visit to Mvskoke Radio Sept. 1 to give an update on COVID-19 around the Reservation. Terry claimed the last few weeks have been especially hard for the Muscogee Nation Department of Health due to the high numbers of positive cases. “We have tested probably 1,500 patients in the last seven days,” Terry said. “We are running consistently between 17-19 percent positivity rate. That means every week we have several hundred new positive patients in our system.”

Not only is COVID a major presence in the tribe’s health facilities but the start of school has shown high rises in other illnesses.

“We are seeing high numbers of strep, RSV and a touch of flu as well,” he said. “Not only do you have COVID spread out there, but you have those other illnesses that are popping up as well.”

According to Terry, there were nine COVID patients at the Medical Center in Okmulgee as of Sept. 1, one patient at the Okemah location and a volume of 50 walk-in COVID patients daily at the newly opened Council Oak Comprehensive Health Urgent Care in Tulsa.

“All of the hospitals around the state have been very full,” Terry said. “Once these patients get to a level where they need intensive care, we have to send those patients outside of our system. Especially when they get to ventilator, often times there has not been a place to send them to.”

Terry said the health system has had to manage critical cases in emergency rooms due to the lack of beds for Intensive Care Units across the state. He also claimed that unvaccinated patients who reach critical condition (on a ventilator) have had a 100 percent fatality rate in the MCNDH System. “If you are unvaccinated and you get on a ventilator, your chances of making it are almost zero,” he said. “But if you are vaccinated, your chances of dying with COVID is reduced 95%, your chance of being hospitalized is reduced 85%.”

In addition to the vaccination, the MCNDH offers the monoclonal antibody treatment.

“One thing we are in the process now of planning up at our Council Oak facility in Tulsa, we’re going to do monoclonal antibody infusion center,” Terry said. “This will give us the ability to infuse 30-40 patients a day.”

According to Terry, the infusion center opens Sept. 13. “We are spending a big part of time trying to get that facility ready,” he said. “We are also spending a lot of time getting ready for the booster shots.”

The FDA has approved a third dose for those who are immune compromised with existing health conditions.

Terry claimed MNDH expects it to be approved for the whole population around Sept. 19.

“What we are being told so far is you have needed to have your last vaccine eight months ago or longer to be eligible for that shot,” Terry said.

Terry mentioned that those who had taken the Johnson & Johnson single dose shot are not eligible to receive the third booster shots.

The upcoming vaccine could be compared to the flu shot according to Terry.

“Like the flu virus, it mutates every year,” Terry said. “So, the flu virus you got this year is not the same flu virus you got last year. Every time we create a flu vaccine, they create the vaccine for this year’s flu from last year’s flu. So, with COVID we know that this vaccine was created with the Alpha variant that has mutated to the Delta variant. We are hearing cases of the Lambda variant that have shown up Texas.”

According to Terry, this may be something to deal with for years to come if the virus continues to mutate.

“At some point in time, people are going to have to comfortable that this is something we are going to have to protect ourselves from and other real protection is to vaccinate.”

As the State of Oklahoma is battling mask mandates, Terry said he is tiring of the fight over the ordeal.

“We know that a mask is one small step to mitigating the spread,” he said. “It doesn’t prevent you from getting COVID, it slows the droplets and it’s slowing the possibility of you catching it from an infected person but the only thing we know that stops it 100 percent is for you to not be around an infected person, so masking is important.”

“You should wear a mask especially if you think you have symptoms and if you’re going to be around people in a room and you don’t know if they are vaccinated or unvaccinated or positive.”

According to Terry, patients can be positive for days without symptoms leading to prolonging getting tested.

“That’s one of the reasons we try to encourage people that if you have been exposed then you really need to go get tested,” Terry said. “You cannot have symptoms and still be spreading this out there. It’s something we have never had to deal with in this way before.”

He said outside activities help prevent the spread of COVID due to the ventilation which plays a major role in the virus.

Terry claimed he had no part in the decision of canceling the Muscogee Festival, but provided the Chief’s office with health information concerning the virus that possibly aided the decision.

Press Secretary Jason Salsman stated in a previous interview regarding the Festival, the Nation’s concern was to get more people vaccinated.

“We only know of one thing that will reduce your chance by 95 percent and that’s the vaccine,” Terry said. “We have one mission and that’s to take care of our people.”

The MCNDH advises citizens to continue to take precautions for the virus, social distancing, mask wearing and getting the vaccine.

All MCNDH locations provide on-site testing and available vaccinations.

FESTIVAL CANCELED FOR THE SECOND YEAR

THE NATION MADE THE DECISION WITH GUIDANCE FROM HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

OKMULGEE, Oklahoma – The annual Muscogee Nation Festival has been canceled for the second year due to the rising cases of COVID. The decision was made with the advice and guidance from medical professionals both nationally and in the Muscogee Nation Department of Health.

According to MN Press Secretary Jason Salsman, the administration had taken a long hard look at the festival but even after postponing to a later date; the ultimate decision was made to cancel.

“We lost it last year so it was tough to even postpone it,” Salsman said. “We took into account national numbers from the CDC and everything that was going on nationwide around us.”

He claimed the Nation is going back to a state where decisions had to be made based on the rising number of cases.

Salman said with the festival being an event people from across the country plan their vacation around to attend, the administration had to take into account the advice given by MNDH regarding COVID positivity rates and new variant case numbers climbing.

“That tough decision was made for the good of everyone, for the health and safety of everyone,” he said. “We just couldn’t go on with the festival as planned knowing the amount of cases out there and we still have to get more people vaccinated.”

Salsman said the administration would be looking forward to 2022 for a chance to have the festival as normal as possible.

MCN BEHAVIORAL HEALTH PROMOTES SUICIDE AWARENESS

PROJECT DIRECTOR TYLER STONE SHARES FACTS AND TIPS OVER SUICIDE

by Lani Hansen
SENIOR REPORTER

OKMULGEE, Oklahoma— It has been four years since former Principal Chief James Floyd signed a proclamation declaring the week of Sept. 10-16 as Suicide Prevention Week. Although Suicide Awareness Month is set for September, any time of the year people can help prevent suicide.

According to Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), suicide is the 10th leading cause of death in the United States. It is the 8th leading cause of death within Native Americans/Alaskan Natives.

Muscogee Nation Behavioral Health Project Director Tyler Stone said there is a higher rate of suicides in males across the U.S. men or young boys are not taught at a young age to express their feelings openly. According to Stone, they are taught to keep their feelings down inside, to not bring it up and it is not okay to cry.

“Each year September is Suicide Awareness month,” Stone said. “The goal of that month is trying to raise awareness about suicide. We know suicide and mental health in general is very stigmatized, and when we pretend the problem doesn’t exist that furthers the stigma. It decreases people’s ability to reach out.”

According to Stone, when talking about mental health it is normalizing to say, ‘it’s okay to not be okay.’ For those who are struggling with mental health there is help or resources available.

Stone’s department is dedicated to reducing the frequency of suicide attempts and deaths, and the pain of loss survivors affected by suicide of loved ones through education and prevention programs, research projects, intervention services and bereavement resources.

Some warning signs to look out for if you are worried about a friend who might be struggling: if they are talking about dying, or taking their life, withdrawing from activities, giving away prized possessions or see an increase of alcoholism or drug use, those are some signs. Stone said do not be afraid to ask if they are feeling suicidal. Stone has seen an increase of people facing stress, anxiety, worrying and depression during the pandemic. He said the pandemic brought and is still bringing uncertainty, fear and losses since last year when the pandemic started especially in the Nation. “We lost a lot of tribal leaders and elders in our community last year due to the pandemic,” Stone said.

If you are someone who is struggling with mental health and wanting to take charge of it, Stone suggested talking about your feelings with someone you trust whether it is a friend, family member or coworker. Taking care of your physical health as far as good exercise (walking, riding a bike, moving your body) translates into your mental health. Also eating healthy foods and minimizing junk food, staying connected to people and reaching out for help.

“There is no shame in going into counseling,” he said. “One of the cool things I’ve seen this past year, though there is stigma attached to mental health I have seen a lot more people reaching out to me and asking ‘who do you see as a therapist.’ Even though I work in the field of behavioral health, even I need to go to therapy.”

MN Behavioral Health had a couple of events to promote suicide awareness month, on Sept. 8 they had a Social Media Day posting infographics that has positive messages or suicide data rates. Also on Sept. 8, they had a Chalk Event at the Mound for people to do some chalk art to spread the messages of hope and help. On Sept. 9 they provided a virtual training on suicide prevention for any adult on learning to help a friend who is struggling with mental health or suicide. On Sept. 10, they had their suicide awareness walk at the Mound Building to bring the community together to stand in solidarity of suicide awareness and prevention.

If you or someone you know is struggling with suicidal thoughts, call the Suicide Prevention Lifeline at: 1-800-273-8255, or text the word ‘Creek’ to 741-741. Or contact MCN Behavioral Health at: 918-758-1910.

BACONE COLLEGE MEN’S BASKETBALL TEAM MEET ICE CUBE

ANONYMOUS DONOR FLIES TEAM OUT TO BE SPECIAL GUESTS

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

LAS VEGAS, Nevada - Bacone College men’s basketball team was invited as a special guest to Ice Cube’s Big 3 tournament, a 3-on-3 basketball league featuring World Champions, All-Stars, and Hall of Famers, held in Las Vegas.

According to the men’s basketball Head Coach Ruben Little Head, it was an anonymous donor who knew Ice Cube and pitched the idea of having the team as guests to watch the tournament as it made its way to Las Vegas.

The donor and Little Head agreed that it would be inspirational for the young team to attend.

The donor told the 13 basketball players who were able to attend, “This isn’t about me and it’s not about your coaches, or even about these famous people you’ve been around all day. It’s about you. And this can belong to you. All of it. You go out there and get it by working hard.”

Little Head said the impromptu trip was a great opportunity to get to know the ones able to attend better and provided a bonding experience for the team members.

“It was a once in a lifetime opportunity,” Little Head said about meeting Ice Cube. “He has a real big influence on my generation and even the younger generation and a big influence in the world.”

Little Head claimed he could see the glee in the eyes of the players when they met Ice Cube.

“When I see them smile and light up it was all worth it,” he said. “The opportunity I had as head coach and to have my basketball players in Vegas to meet the one and only Ice Cube, I believe it provided inspiration and motivation for my players to strive for success and inspiration to give that extra effort to come to Bacone and to finish.”

“Hopefully we will have future big event from people like Ice Cube to shine some light our little college.”

President of Bacone College Dr. Ferlin Clark said the invitation was a blessing for the students and the historic college.

“We were to be invited as special guests of Ice Cube and grateful for the love shown to our students,” he said. “We’re also excited about the news we received before we came home that bigger things are in the works for us. What an incredible experience for our athletes.”

Little Head wanted to give a shout out to the Creator, Dr. Ferlin Clark, the anonymous donor and Ice Cube.

FEDERAL INITIATIVE TO HELP FIGHT MMIP CRISIS

THE MISSING AND MURDERED UNIT WILL HELP BRING FEDERAL AND TRIBAL AGENCIES TOGETHER IN CASES INVOLVING INDIGENOUS PEOPLES

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

TVSLE, Oklahoma – During the Inter-tribal Council of the Five Civilized Tribes meeting in July, Principal Chief David Hill along with each tribal leader from the FCT signed a resolution supporting federal and state efforts to address the Missing and Murdered Indigenous People’s crisis.

In early April, Secretary of the Interior Deb Haaland announced the formation of a new Missing and Murdered Unit with the Bureau of Indian Affairs Office of Justice Services to build on the work of the Operation Lady Justice that was formed in 2019. The MMU will help pull the full weight of the federal government into investigating these cases along with marshal law enforcement resources.

The unit will designate new leadership and support roles including a Unit Chief responsible for stakeholder collaboration, continued policy development and oversee performance of the unit. There will be designated positions using federal funds to support the investigative needs of the MMU including the collection and analysis of performance data and coordination of services with victims’ families.

“Violence against Indigenous peoples is a crisis that has been underfunded for decades. Far too often murders and missing persons cases in Indian Country go unsolved and unaddressed, leaving families and communities devastated,” Haaland said. “The new MMU unit will provide the resources and leadership to prioritize these cases and coordinate resources to hold people accountable, keep our communities safe, and provide closure for families.”

The National Crime Information Center has recorded approximately 1,500 American Indian and Alaskan Natives missing across the U.S. and approximately 2,700 cases of murder and non-negligent homicide offenses have been reported to the Federal Governments Uniform Crime Reporting Program.

“Whether it’s a missing family member or a homicide investigation, these efforts will be all hands-on deck,” Haaland stated. “We are fully committed to assisting tribal communities with these investigations and the MMU will leverage every resource available to be a force-multiplier in preventing these cases from becoming cold case investigations.” Cases remain unsolved due to the lack of investigative resources available. The MMU will immediately begin working with tribal, BIA, and FBI investigators on active missing and murdered investigations.

NOT INVISIBLE ACT COMMISSION NOMINATIONS
REQUESTED BY INTERIOR

COMMISSION TO ACT AS INVESTIGATORY AGENCY TO COMBAT CRIMES AGAINST INDIGENOUS PEOPLE

by Morgan Taylor
REPORTER

WASHINGTON – The U.S. Departments of Justice and Interior are taking further steps in implementing the Not Invisible Act. In doing this, the departments initiated a notice request for public nominations for non-federal members to join the U.S. Department of Interiors Joint Commission on Reducing Violent Crime Against Indians commissions as outlined in Section 4 of the Not Invisible Act of 2019.

Secretary of Interior Deb Haaland sponsored the Not Invisible Act of 2019 when she was serving in Congress. The Act mandates the forming of a commission that includes representation from all sides; tribal, local, and state law enforcement along with tribal judges, health professions, survivors, and family members of missing and murdered Indigenous people.

The Act was passed by Congress unanimously in October 2020 to increase coordination between governmental agencies to identify and combat the crimes against indigenous peoples.

“The Interior and Justice Departments have a unique opportunity to marshal our resources to finally address the crisis of violence against Indigenous peoples,” Haaland said. “Doing this successfully means seeking active and ongoing engagements from experts both inside and outside of the government. Incorporating Indigenous knowledge, tribal consultation, and a commission that reflects members who know first-hand the needs of their people will be critical as we address this epidemic in Native American and Alaskan communities.”

As a part of the Commission and implementation of the Act, the agencies will be moving forward with nation-to-nation consultation conducted with tribal leaders as stated in the Department of Justice Aug. 4 press release.

The commission must include 28 federal and non-federal members with different experience, background, and geography to be able to provide representation across the board and can develop balanced point of views regarding the duties of the Commission. The commission will act as investigatory agency taking testimony, receiving evidence, and holding hearings to assist in providing recommendations to the federal government in combating crimes against Native Americans and Alaskan Natives.

The Secretary of Interior in coordination with the U.S. Attorney General will consider the nominations for the non-federal employees, as stated in Section IV of the public notice request. The secretary will not consider the federal employee nominations.

Non-federal members can include tribal law enforcement, state and local law enforcement, tribal judge, representation from at least three tribal nations, at least three health care practitioners with experience in working with Native American victims of violent crimes, at least three organization with a focus on violent crimes against Indigenous women and people, at least two Native human trafficking survivors, at least family members of a missing Native person and at least two family members of a murdered Native person.

Currently, nominations are being taken by the U.S. Secretary of Interior and U.S. Attorney General.

ALL INDIAN LIVESTOCK SHOW MOVED FORWARD WITH CAUTION

BELT BUCKLES AND AWARDS GIVEN TO NATIVE YOUTH FOR BEST LIVESTOCK

by Lani Hansen
SENIOR REPORTER

OKEMAH, Oklahoma– The Muscogee (Creek) Nation Ag Youth Program hosted their Eighth Annual All Indian Live-stock Show on Aug. 6-8 at the Okfuskee County Fairgrounds. In previous years the show was held at the end of Janu-ary, but due to the pandemic the event had been postponed. This was a make up show for the one they did not have in January. “We had a make up show, because we had already pur-chased a lot of our awards and stuff,” MCN Ag Youth Pro-gram Manager Billy Haltom said. “We needed to get those disbursed out to everybody.”

On Friday night Aug. 6, they had the sheep and goats showing. On Saturday was the showing of pigs, and the cattle showing was on Sunday after-noon. They had about half of the number of participants than the regular showing, due to the timing. Haltom said there was about 100 head of goats, around 50 head of sheep, about 75 head of hogs and 40 head of cattle.

This livestock show brings in Native American youth from six years old to high school seniors. It teaches the youth responsibility and allows them to see what livestock showing is.

These beautiful belt buckles were ordered and handed out to over 30 Native Youth during the All Indian Livestock Show. (Submission)

“It gives them a chance to get out in front of a large group of people and present their animal or livestock,” Haltom said. “Showing livestock is not easy. It’s great the day of the show, but takes a whole lot of work to get one of them ready.” “We’re teaching them a lot of good everyday, as far as work ethics and responsibility but at the same time were giving them a platform to get out and show their animals and be rewarded for their hard work.”

Haltom said every year they bring out Native youth Muscogee (Creek) or not, as long as they are tribal affiliated resid-ing in the eight county jurisdictions. They also bring in Muscogee (Creek) youth from out of state. This year they handed out 39 belt buckles and over 100 banners. The top four belt buckle winners are: Breanna Gann (Grand Champion-Market Hog), Jade McPeak (Grand Champion-Breeding Heifer), Leo Enlow (Grand Champi-on-Steer) and Avery White (Grand Champion-Market Goat). The Ninth Annual All Indian Livestock Show will be on the last weekend of January 2022 at the Okfuskee County Fairgrounds in Okemah.

‘THE MVSKOKE NEWS’ EXPLANATION OF TEXT SIZE LIMITATIONS

One issue is compatibility between our paper layout program and those used by MCN Finance/Human Resources to compile the information. We place the documents they submit directly in our program rather than pulling each individual’s information. This is done in order to save a significant amount of time and drastically eliminate the margin for error on our end. The submitted files create a scaling issue in the way they are sized in contrast to the newspaper pages. The other involves the number of pages we can afford in our budget for each edition.
